

Crosby honored for leadership by state Supreme Court

Submitted

Samuel N. Crosby, left, is presented with the Alabama Supreme Court's outstanding leadership award by state Supreme Court Chief Justice Sue Bell Cobb, right. Crosby is president of the Alabama State Bar.

Submitted

MONTGOMERY — Alabama Supreme Court Chief Justice Sue Bell Cobb has presented the chief justice's outstanding leadership award to Daphne attorney Samuel N. Crosby.

Crosby was singled out for the award in recognition of his service as president of the Alabama State Bar.

One of the community service projects begun during his term and continuing today is "Wills for Heroes." This pro bono program is a statewide initiative that provides free simple wills, advance healthcare directives and powers of attorney to firefighters, law enforcement personnel and emergency medical personnel.

Crosby practices with the law firm of Stone, Granade & Crosby, P.C., with offices in Bay Minette, Daphne and Foley.

